World Patient Safety Day 17 September 2025

3. Introductory Remarks

The event commenced with the national anthem, followed by the symbolic lighting of the traditional oil lamp, marking an auspicious and dignified beginning.

While Dr Lal Panapitiya, Deputy Director General, Medical Services welcomed the participants, the introductory remarks of the World Patient Safety Day were delivered by Dr. Upuli Wijemanne, Director of the Patient Safety & Accreditation Bureau. She outlined the objectives of WPSD and highlighted how Sri Lanka has commemorated this event since 2019 — recognizing and encouraging best practices aligned with each year's theme. She emphasized that these initiatives have paved the way toward strengthening a sustainable patient safety culture in the country.

4. Reaffirmation of the commitment by the ministry higher officials and the WHO Representative (WR)

The Honourable Minister of Health and Mass Media, the Secretary to the Ministry, and the WHO Country Representative for Sri Lanka shared their perspectives on patient safety, outlining the evolution of Sri Lanka's quality and patient safety programme and highlighting the achievements attained to date. The Honorable Minister and the WR in their speeches mentioned the country's commitment and WHO collaboration to reach patient safety goals through a centrally guided locally driven well established network in the state and private sector healthcare institutions. The Patient Safety & Accreditation Bureau introduced the journey taken so far and the way forward highlighting the steps ahead towards healthcare accreditation.

5. Launching of the Continuous Professional Development (CPD) manual

A national level Continuous Professional Development CPD manual on patient safety and healthcare quality was launched to promote and support in services training for health staff. This manual mainly focusses on teaching on safety aspects.

6. Introduction of digital platform to assess performances of hospitals

A digital platform Quality Performance Evaluation Tool (QPET) was launched to monitor the progress of performances in patient safety and quality improvement activities in all types of hospitals and healthcare institutions in the country. Since 2013, this performances assessment was done using the manual methods.

These two events were the success of long-standing commitment by the Patient Safety and Accreditation Bureau of Sri Lanka and different healthcare experts and professionals who contributed immensely.

7. Keynote address

The keynote address was delivered by Professor Ishani Rodrigo, Professor of Pediatrics at the General Sir John Kotelawala Defense University, who emphasized the importance of giving greater attention to the care of children and neonates.

8. Panel discussion on safe care for every newborn & every child

Key agenda items of the main event included a panel discussion conducted by experts in the fields of pediatrics, obstetrics and medical administrators highlighting the importance and ongoing activities to ensure safety in every aspect related to newborn and child healthcare. This was helpful in giving more public awareness among healthcare staff and patient groups. The discussion was moderated by Dr Lal Panapitiya & Dr Upuli Wijemanne.

9. Recognizing the best practices of line ministry hospitals & provincial hospitals

A key highlight of the event was the recognition of best practices submitted by hospitals under both the line ministry hospitals and provincial hospitals. This platform provided an opportunity for hospitals to showcase their innovative and sustainable initiatives aligned with this year's World Patient Safety Day theme.

Submissions were evaluated under two main categories i.e. line ministry hospitals and provincial hospitals and three outstanding institutions from each category were honoured with Gold, Silver, and Bronze awards. The award winners were also invited to present their initiatives within a 7-minute timeframe. In addition, Certificates of Appreciation were awarded to all shortlisted institutions in both categories, acknowledging their valuable contributions to patient safety.

The award winners were listed down below.

Line ministry institutional category award winners

Award type	Name of the Hospital	Project
Gold Award	District General Hospital - Mannar	Minimizing the Potential Risk of Taking Repeated X-Rays due to Malposition of Newborn at SCBU
Silver Award	Base Hospital- Wathupitiwala	Implementation of Newborn Baby Cots in the Postnatal Ward
Bronze Award	Base Hospital - Udugama	Enhancing Neonatal Safety Through Standardized Monitoring: Implementation of a Newborn Observation Chart at Base Hospital Udugama.

10. Awarding judges for their services

Two independent panels of judges, each comprising five members—including medical administrators, clinicians, and nursing representatives—were appointed to select the best performers. Their valuable contributions were also recognized and appreciated at the end.

11. Lighting the monument

The Colombo Municipal Council building which is considered as an emblem in the city was lit up in orange colour to demonstrate the country's commitment towards patient safety.

12.Special activity

This special activity was conducted to re-energize the participants and encourage physical movement, helping to break the monotony of the event.

13.Vote of thanks

Vote of thanks delivered by Dr Shashi Prabha Nawaratne, Consultant Community Physician of the Patient Safety & Accreditation Bureau.

13. Conclusion

The Patient Safety & accreditation Bureau on behalf of the Ministry of Health wishes to thank the WHO for their continuous collaboration and all the health staff for their commitment to ensure safety and quality patientcare services in Sri Lanka.
